Kiwi and large earthworm

by MiaQc

Summary

A cute flash fic about a male kiwi.

- A translation of Kiwi et gros vers de terre by MiaQc

A male kiwi, in the middle of the night, hunts for food. His long beak pecks at the ground, again and again, feeling the earth's vibrations. Suddenly, he detects something. A big earthworm. While continuing to poke the ground with his beak, the kiwi slowly advances towards his prey. As soon as it's within reach, his beak catches the unfortunate worm and, in no time, it is eaten. The bird is happy, but still hungry so he continues to peck at the ground with his beak, while moving slowly through the forest.
